Juliet's support throughout my grievance process was invaluable. Her holistic approach ensured that I felt supported every step of the way. She took the time to check in with me both before and after meetings, demonstrating her sincere dedication to my well-being. Her consistent care and attention made a difficult situation more manageable, and I am grateful for her unwavering support from start to finish.

Empathic, good listener, problem solver.

Juliet Fisher has been a great help in supporting me to go forward in my business. Her good level of experience in service, niche and independent businesses first attracted me and after we met, it was then her ability to empathise and listen to my concerns that I appreciated.

Following her advice I have made some changes, both in my approach and way of doing business, and in how and where I network that have all been beneficial.

I would recommend her as an experienced consultant, with an ability to think out-of-the-box.
